

Host Barlow Herget talks to his brother Dick Herget in Shirley, AR, about that state's experience and his own with natural gas fracking exploration. Dick Herget is former Entergy Arkansas board member and is familiar with the natural gas industry in Arkansas. He is also a beneficiary of gas discovery on his property. He is, however, cautious about the lack of transparency in the petroleum industry and has seen damage to his own well and has felt tremors from fracking induced earthquakes.
