RALEIGH, (SGRToday.com) - School is out for many North Carolina students, but for 650 gifted kids from around the state, it's just begun.

This week, a select group of students are exploring cutting-edge ideas and concepts in academics and the arts as the 2015 Session of the North Carolina Governor's School.

The summer residential program is a five-and-a-half week experience. Locations include the Governor's School East (Meredith College, Raleigh) and the Governor's School West (Salem College, Winston-Salem).

A list of students can be found at www.ncpublicschools.org.
