

Senator Tillis Says He's Feeling Better

By Administrator

Monday, 05 October 2020 12:14 -

Senator Tillis continues to self-isolate at home and is feeling well. His mild symptoms from yesterday have significantly improved and the only lingering symptom is the loss of his sense of taste and smell. Thom and his wife Susan remain grateful for the well wishes they've received from North Carolinians.