

PPP: Hillary Clinton Leads Democratic Field In North Carolina With 55 Percent

By Administrator
Thursday, 27 August 2015 05:50 -

RALEIGH, (SGRToday.com) - Bernie Sanders is drawing huge crowds for his presidential run, but here in North Carolina, rival Hillary Clinton continues to lead the field.

Public Policy Polling data shows Clinton has 55 percent of Democratic primary voters' support, while Sanders has 19 percent.

Jim Webb follows with 5 percent, Lincoln Chafee and Martin O'Malley with 2 percent each, and Lawrence Lessig with 1 percent.

Speculation about Vice President Joe Biden has ramped up this week. Clinton told reporters she wants Biden to make the best decision for himself and his family.

Biden recently lost his son, Beau.