{audio}files/preroll.mp3;files/News_Audio/2012/sgrtmiller070212.mp3{/audio}

Democratic Congressman Brad Miller of Raleigh says he's never seen Washington politics so " poisonous" in its partisanship and sees the current session doing nothing until after the November Election. He says the Supreme Court's decision to reaffirm in a 5-4 vote the Citizens United's case to allow unlimited campaign contributions will put the country in the hands of wealthy individuals more than ever.